- Saturday's Match of the Week in round 7 of the EHF Champions League Women 2023/24 features the teams ranked second and first in group A.

- SG BBM Bietigheim started with five straight wins before losing 42:29 to Odense Håndbold in round 6.

- Györi Audi ETO KC are the only team in the competition with six wins from six matches.

- The teams previously met in the CL 2020/21 play-offs, when Györ won twice; it marked the only time so far Bietigheim made it to a CL knockout phase.

- Both teams have a Danish head coach since this season: Bietigheim's Jakob Vestergaard arrived from Viborg HK and has faced Györ's Ulrik Kirkely, who joined from Odense, in the Danish league before.

- Vestergaard won the EHF Champions League twice with Viborg – in 2009 and 2010.

- Hungarian right wing Dorottya Faluvégi joined Bietigheim in the summer of 2023 after four seasons with Györ (2019-23).

- Another Hungarian player in Bietigheim's squad, goalkeeper Melinda Szikora, will miss the MOTW against Györ due to a knee injury.

- Dutch international Kelly Dulfer will swap Bietigheim for Györ next season.

- Bietigheim have two more Dutch players, but they will not play the MOTW: Inger Smits (knee injury) and Danick Snelder (maternity leave).

- Györ's squad also includes Dutch players: line player Yvette Broch and goalkeeper Rinka Duijndam.

- Both teams had one player competing for gold medallists Brazil at the 2023 Pan American Games: Bietigheim goalkeeper Gabriela Moreschi and Györ left back Bruna de Paula.

- The two sides also feature players from Denmark: Bietigheim's new arrivals this season Sarah Nørklit Lønberg and Anne With Johansen, and Györ's Sandra Toft and Line Haugsted.

- Last season, Bietigheim were the only team in the group phase to beat both eventual finalists – Vipers Kristiansand and FTC-Rail Cargo Hungaria.

- Vipers later defeated Györ in the semi-final of the EHF FINAL4 Women 2023 in Budapest.

- Györ have missed only one edition of the EHF FINAL4 since its 2014 inauguration – in 2015.

- Györ became the first team to win the women's edition of the CL three years in a row (2017-19); the feat has since been matched by Vipers (2021-23).
